Transit Observations

WASHINGTON, December 7. Prof. Hilgard, superintendent of the coast and geological survey, has received a report from Assistant Davidson, chief of the transit of Venus party at Fort Selden, N. M., announcing the complete success of observations of all four contacts, sixteen splendid photographs being obtained.

MELBOURNE, December 7.—The transit of Venus was successfully observed here, at Cape Town, New Zealand, Tasmania and New South Wales. Thirty-three photographs were obtained at Melbourne. Observations at Queenstown and Sidney were unsuccessful.

CITY OF MEXICO, December 7.—The weather throughout the country yesterday was favorable to satisfactory observations of the transit of Venus.

—LONDON, December 7.—American observers in New Zealand obtained successful observations of the transit of Venus.

Massacre in Mexico.

ALBUQUERQUE, New Mexico, December 6.—The full particulars have been received here of the wholesale slaughter by Ju and his band near the town of Casas Grandes, in the Aray de Enclnillas, in the state of Chihuahua, of Americans and Mexicans. Ju and his band have been committing various depredations for some time past, and a few days before went to the ranches of Jefe Politico, of Galiano; Don Juan, of Canddiria, and stole many head of sheep and cattle. They visited the ranches of other citizens and drove off many more. Politico and other sufferers gathered a band of about thirty men and started after the Indians. They came upon them before they knew that Ju and his band were anywhere near. They were immediately surrounded by the Indians in the arroya, and Politico, as soon as he saw the number of the band—which was over two hundred—dispatched one of the men for assistance, who managed to escape, arriving at Galliano. He got together about seventy men and started at once for the scene. Ju sent out a party who engaged in a fight with him, preventing him from joining Politico. The rescuers saw the slaughter but could do nothing for their unfortunate friends. Every one of the pursuing party, with the exception of the man who went for succor, was butchered by the savages. They then retreated to the Sierra Madre. Then the friends of the unfortunate victims went out to bury the dead, they found not far from the spot where the massacre occurred the bodies of five Americans, who had fallen victims, too, to the Indians. Two of these Americans, it has since been learned, were from Grant county in this territory. Their names are James Biggs and W. D. McDowell. They had been in Chihuahua for some time purchasing cattle, and were on their way home. It was Ju and his band who some time ago murdered several prominent citizens of Chihuahua, amongst whom were two near realatives of Governor Terassas.

ALBUQUERQUE, December 7.—A special to the Daily Journal from Chihuahua says the recent massacre in Casas Grandes, state of Chihuahua, Mexico, by Indians, proves to have been a horrible affair. A band of Apaches numbering fully 500 crossed to the border and descending upon the little town began an indiscriminate massacre, fully seventy-five persons falling victims. Several girls and women were carried off by the savages and a large quantity of stock and other property stolen. The houses of the unfortunate Mexicans were burned and the dead bodies stripped of their clothing and jewelry. The murdered persons were among the wealthiest class and several of the most prominent families in the place among the victims. Troops have been dispatched to the scene, but the Indians have a long start and their capture is not predicted.

Bulldozing Congress.

PITTSBURG, December 7.—This afternoon Secretary Martin of the Amalgamated association received word from President Jarrett, who is at Chicago, that the conference between Bessemer steel manufacturers of that place and their employes to fix a rate of wages for next year, which was to have taken place this week, has been indefinitely postponed. It is stated that the postponement is the result of a determination on the part of manufacturers to suspend operations after January 1st, until the report of the tariff commission has been acted upon. Pittsburg manufacturers refuse to confirm or deny this report, while employes believe there will be a suspension after the date mentioned.

For the Benefit of Science.

CHICAGO, December 7.—In order to secure satisfactory observation of the transit of Venus it was indispensable that the astronomer should have exact Washington time, wherever the transit was scientifically observed. The public will be interested to know that this was done, and that the Western Union telegraph company did the service, free, to all points, sending time signals for three days, requiring almost exclusive use of the wire all over the country for nearly fifteen minutes each day. This is the last day that the transmission of these signals will be necessary, and although storms in the east and blizzards in the west have dismantled the wires, the service was arranged with infinite care and satisfactorily done.

Ohio Canvass.

COLUMBUS, December 7. The state canvassing board on the vote for congressmen found the face of the returns showed 280 majority for Murray the third district, 41 for Morey in the seventh, 601 for Warner in the fifteenth and 81 for McKinley in the 18th, and returned them accordingly, but agreed not to issue certificates till Monday week, as James Campbell gave notice of a mandamus in the supreme court to issue to him instead of Morey, as Clermont county returned 3,517 votes for H. F. Morey and the other three counties of the district for Henry T. Morey. In the third district Montgomery county returned 8,022 for A. Maynard Murray and the other counties for A. M. Murray. In the 15th Morgan county returned 740 votes for A. R. Warner and the rest for A. J. Warner, while his name is Adoniram J. Warner. Irregularities were found in other districts, but only in those named would the result be changed. The result of the third, seventh, 15th and 18th districts will be affected by pending action.

Graveyard Ghouls.

PHILADELPHIA, December 7.—An indignation meeting of colored people was held this afternoon. A resolution was adopted, giving heartfelt thanks to the proprietor and attaches of the Press for the arrest and imprisonment of the grave robbers. When a trustee of Lebanon cemetery named Burton appeared on the platform there was great excitement. Several razors and revolvers were drawn and nearly everybody shouted for vengeance, while Bishop Campbell and other clergymen invoked peace. The peacemakers were successful but the meeting at once adjourned. Announcement was made that subscriptions to prosecute ghouls would be received at the Press office. Thirty graves were opened to-day. From about half of them the bodies had been stolen. The health department will not allow more graves opened until it is known whether the person died from contagious diseases.

Conflagrations

COVINGTON, Tenn., December 7.—A fire this morning destroyed six stores, three dwellings, a hotel, church and livery stable. Loss, $50,000. Insurance small.

KINGSLAND, N. J., December 7.—The machine shops of the Lackawanna company burned this morning. Loss $70,000; insured.

CAIRO, Ill., December 7.—Fire at Paducah, Ky., this morning destroyed the Southern hotel and three business houses, valued at $23,000; insured for $11,000.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., December 7.—Isaac Jones' building, occupied by the Nonotuck Pocketbook company, the Journal office and others, burned. Loss, $30,000; insurance is light.

Disasters.

SYRACUSE, December 7. This morning the stock train bound east on the New York Central railway broke asunder near Memphis, the dairy and another stock train following in a general heap. The St. Louis express going west then rushed into the shattered cars, making quite a respectable grand total of disaster in a comparatively short space of time. Considerable live stock was killed and damage to railroad property was heavy. No lives were lost.

NEW ORLEANS, December 7.—The passengers from the steamboat Morning Star, which exploded her boilers yesterday, state she was racing with the Sunbeam when the disaster occurred.

COLLINGWOOD, December 7.—The aft portion of the steamer Oneida burned this morning at the dock; she was scuttled and sunk. Insured for $37,000.

NEW ORLEANS, December 7.—Frank Holt, of Chattanooga, Wm. Freitus, aged sixteen, and Sarah Young, (colored), scalded by the explosion of the steamboat Morning Star, have died. Of twenty-one persons on board at the time of the explosion five only are now living.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 7.—The Merchants exchange has received a telegram reporting the loss of the British ship Flona, which sailed from this port July 15th, bound for Queenstown. The ship was wrecked on the sixth inst., on the Lincolnshire coast and all hands were lost. At last accounts the cargo was washing ashore.

Base Ball.

PROVIDENCE, December 7.—The National base ball league adopted an amendment rendering liable to expulsion any player under contract with a league club who shall without consent of such club agree to enter the service of another club after the expiration of his contract. The schedule series was changed from 12 to 14 games. Playing rules were amended to the effect that pitchers handling the ball must pass it below the shoulders instead of the waist. The rules were further amended by a provision for the appointment of four league umpires at an annual salary of $1,000 each. A committee was appointed to consider the advisability of recognizing contracts with the Northwestern league and other such associations, to report in March. Gross, Foy, Dickerson, Crowley, Brown and Caskins were restored to membership. The Spaulding ball was adopted.

At the evening session A. G. Mills of Chicago was elected president. New York and Philadelphia were admitted in place of Troy and Worcester. Return to the old distinguishing colors in uniforms of the older clubs was agreed upon. Detroit, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia will name the board of directors. Adjourned.

Wild Shooting.

CINCINNATI, December 7.—A quarrel arose among hack drivers and parties going home from a ball at Turner hall at five o'clock this morning. When policemen appeared to keep the peace one of the drivers, Wm. Patterson, a notorious character, drew a revolver and fired at the policemen. The ball missed the policemen but struck Jas. Coke, another driver, in the head, killing him instantly. Patterson escaped.

ST. LOUIS, December 7. This morning between nine and ten o'clock, in Wm. Barr & Co.'s large dry goods store, J. B. Culla, a clerk in Lenbrie's store, shot twice at T. Carpening, a clerk in Nugent Bros.' store. Culla had taken Carpening to Barr's for the purpose of confronting him with his wife, who is employed at Barr's, about whom he charged Carpening had lied. Just as the men got inside Barr's store Carpening refused to go any further when Culla pulled a revolver and fired twice. The bullets missed Carpening but one grazed the cheek of Joseph Johnson, clerk at Barr's.

Tobacco Tax.

CHICAGO, December 7. At a meeting of tobacco men it was stated that manufacturers cared little whether the tax was removed or not. What they wanted was to stop agitation of the question. Till this was done there could be no stability in trade. Most of those present stated that they would close at once or in a short time, unless the question was settled. They commended total abolition of the tax, as a mere reduction would not benefit consumers.

Work of Framing the Tariff Bill Begun.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, December 7.—Kelly, chairman of the committee on ways and means, reported a concurrent resolution for printing 20,000 copies of the report of the tariff commission. Passed.

Also a resolution setting apart Wednesday, the 13th of December, for the consideration of certain bills on the calendar, previously reported from the committee. He stated the bills referred to related exclusively to the administration of the law. Resolution adopted.

The house then went into committee of the whole, Page of California in the chair, on the Indian appropriation bill. The total amount of appropriation provided for in the bill is $5,208,999, being $274,200 less than the appropriation for the current year and $1,516,776 less than estimates.

Ryan, of Kansas, who has charge of the bill, explained that the reduction was principally in the appropriation for subsistence. In explaining the reduction of Indian inspectors from five to three, he said the committee based their action on the suggestion of the secretary of the interior, that if allowed two additional agents he could dispense with two inspectors.

After discussion the committee at 2.25 arose, reported the Indian bill to the house and it was passed at 3 o'clock.

The house again went into committee of the whole on state of the union.

A bill authorizing the government to obtain a title to certain lands in Erie, Pa., and to establish a home for indigent soldiers and sailors was discussed at some length and opposed for the same reasons given during consideration of the measure last session.

Finally Hewitt, of New York, moved to strike out the enacting clause.

The committee agreed and the house later confirmed this action and adjourned.

SENATE.

Voorhees, Sherman, McDill, Vest, Ingalls, Chilcott and Miller, of New York, presented petitions for the passage of a bill to increase the pension of one-armed and one-legged soldiers. Referred.

A bill was introduced by Brown to repeal the internal revenue act of '64 and all other laws and parts of laws enlarging, extending or amending. Referred.

Vest offered a resolution which was adopted directing the secretary of war to send the senate copies of any contracts made by the interior department in regard to leasing the Yellowstone National park or any part thereof to any person or company with the privilege of erecting hotels and telegraph lines and running stages therein.

At the close of the morning hour Beck called up his resolution for investigation into political assessments during the late campaign, and said that having but little personal knowledge on the subject and thinking discussion in advance of ascertainment of facts unprofitable, he would content himself at present with asking a vote on the resolution.

Hale thought that if the conduct of the last campaign was to be investigated by the senate, investigation ought to extend to both parties; therefore he offered a substitute, setting forth names of members of the congressional executive committees of both parties, reciting allegations that the democratic committee had levied contributions on liquor dealers, brewers, and other associations, and directing the committee on judiciary to investigate these charges as well as that made against the republican committee.

Beck said the substitute proposed to investigate matters over which congress has no control, and was evidently intended to embarrass the legitimate legislation proposed in the original resolution.

After a brief discussion the substitute was ordered printed, and on suggestion of Harris the matter went over till to-morrow.

Garland spoke in advocacy of the bill as prepared by the judiciary committee, and then some committee amendments reported by Ingalls were agreed to.

Vest moved to strike out the provision that the man who fails for twenty days to discharge an attachment against his property in a civil suit shall be deemed bankrupt. Agreed to.

The secretary of war was directed to furnish estimates of the Mississippi river commission for the work of improving the river during the next fiscal year.

Time was extended for filing claims for horses and equipments in the United States service.

Adjourned.

Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, December 7.—The ways and means committee this morning unanimously adopted a resolution to proceed at once to the consideration of the tariff commission's report and the framing of a tariff bill. The clerk of the committee was directed to prepare schedules of the rates now existing and of those proposed by the members of the committee.

Patenting Placers.

WASHINGTON, December 7. Secretary Teller has modified his instructions to registers, receivers and surveyor-generals, issued Sept. 22, to read as follows: "No application by an association of persons for a patent to a placer claim will be allowed to embrace more than 160 acres, and not less than five hundred dollars worth of work must be shown to have been expended upon or for the benefit of each separate location embraced in such application. If an individual becomes the purchaser and possessor of several separate claims of 20 acres each or less he may be permitted to include in his application for patent any number of such claims contiguous to each other, not exceeding in the aggregate 160 acres, but upon or for the benefit of each original claim or location so embraced, he or his grantors must have expended the sum of $500 for improvements.

Star Route Cases.

WASHINGTON, December 7.—In the superior court of the district, criminal term, this morning, all the jurors summoned being in attendance, the district attorney announced that the government was ready to proceed in the case of the United States against Thomas J. Brady and others. Ingersoll submitted a motion for a discontinuance of the case on the ground of illness of Stephen W. Dorsey. Judge Wylie overruled the motion. Ingersoll excepted to the ruling and asked time to go to his client's room and procure his signature to a paper, for which purpose a recess was granted.

In the police court to-day in the Dickson case, Henry A. Bowen testified that he had known Dickson casually since '74; had a conversation with him at the Drivers' restaurant August 23, Cameron was not present; he denied emphatically having offered Dickson $2,500 for the right to influence his vote in the star route trial. He also said he was not authorized by the department of justice to make any proposition in relation to the trial and had made none. This finished the examination.

Delay in Opening the Reservation

WASHINGTON, December 7. Settlers are pressing the delegation for a speedy opening of the Gunnison land office, now retarded by the failure to appoint a register and receiver. The indications are that a selection of officers will be complicated. A disagreement between the appointing power and the delegation is likely to create further delay.

Committee Action.

WASHINGTON, December 7. The postal service claims to have been cut down to $325,000 by the post office committee and comes before the senate on a special order on Tuesday next.

The house committee on public lands today discussed the bill known as the brush fence bill, to prevent unlawful occupation of public lands. The disposition of the committee is to amend the bill for the purpose of making it stronger.

The house committee on military affairs today authorized its chairman to appoint a subcommittee to visit the soldiers' home at Hampton, Va., to investigate charges of mismanagement.

Police and Thieves Working Together.

WASHINGTON, December 7.—The citizens' committee appointed to secure greater protection against burglars and sneak thieves, has been furnished with valuable clues by noted three card monte men, O'Leary and Murphy, now in the district jail, and a private detective has been employed to verify them. If the detective succeeds, the committee will make a presentment to the grand jury and make public the system of dividing spoils between professional thieves and certain members of the police.

College Class Expelled.

CLEVELAND, December 7. On the evening of November 28th nearly the whole body of the students of Adelbert college, the Western Reserve college, indulged in a forbidden traditional frolic termed by them "A Tempus." They had a banquet, one of the principal features of which was cider, and a high old lark was had, though as far as known they did nothing worse than be boisterous and possibly burlesqued the college attaches and regulations they do not approve. This sort of spree has been an annual affair for some years, but this year it was interdicted. The faculty at its last meeting decided to administer a rebuke commensurate with the offense, and to-day expelled the entire junior class, numbering 17. This afternoon all the students except three, two of whom were not able to be present, met and unanimously adopted a resolution that they will quit the institution and go to other colleges unless the class is reinstated. The resolutions were presented to-night to the faculty whose response thereto is expected to-morrow.

Sallie Stokes Acquitted.

LITTLE ROCK, December 7.—An Arkadelphia special to the Gazette says the case of Sallie Stokes, on trial for the murder of Malinda Stephens, was given to the jury at noon. Two hours later the jury appeared and rendered a verdict of not guilty. Immediately Miss Stokes was surrounded by her counsel and friends who extended congratulations. She requested that the jury should visit her at her room that she might thank them in person. About three o'clock the jury called in a body when the stoical heroism maintained throughout the trial forsook her and she gave way to hysterical exclamations of grief, mingled with her thanks and sadness. The jury were profoundly impressed, while there was not a dry eye in the assemblage. Miss Stokes will leave for her home in Howard county to-morrow. It was ascertained after the jury had been discharged that the verdict was formed as soon as they reached the room, not a negative being heard on the first inquiry as to what the verdict should be.

Agricultural Association.

MILWAUKEE, December 7.—At the second session of the National Butter, Cheese and Egg association, P Kuhschoff, delegate of the Russian department of agriculture, was introduced. The gentleman is making a tour of the country for the purpose of investigating the American system of agriculture. Jonathan Perriam of Illinois addressed the convention in connection with butter flavoring, which he considered due to the kind of grass fed. The great reputation of Pennsylvania butter for flavor was owing to the grass of that region of the country containing benzoic acid.

Big Cargo.

NEW ORLEANS, December 7.—The steamship Carmona cleared to-day for Liverpool with 10,361 bales of cotton, 12,000 bushels of wheat and 2,030 staves. This is the largest cargo of cotton ever carried by one vessel. The total value of the cargo is $642,000.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Reports from London Announce a Great Fire.

—LONDON, December 7.—Twenty-five steam fire engines are now playing on the ruins of the Royal Alhambra theatre. Owing to the great height of the minarets it is impossible to reach them. The southern minaret is still burning. The damage to the surrounding property is great, all the dresses, property, scenery, music, and instruments for Christmas production at the theatre are destroyed, and are not insured. Eight houses situated back of the theatre have burned. Total loss by fire £15,000.

LONDON, December 7.—The premises of Foster, Porter & Co., wholesale hosiery, on Wood street, extending back to Philip Lane, are ablaze. The fire threatens to become most serious. Several houses on Philip Lane have caught fire and the street being very narrow it is difficult for firemen to approach the burning buildings. The flames extended on Philip Lane as far south as Addle street. Two public buildings are now passing along the blaze.

LATER—The fire is extending to the warehouse of Peter Ryland, dealer in flowers, straws and millinery, one of the largest warehouses on Wood street, which is now in flames. The buildings six, eight and nine on Philip Lane are also on fire. The whole city is illuminated. Only ten engines are yet at the conflagration. The building at Philip Lane and Addle street has fallen.

LONDON, December 8, 5.30 a. m.—The fire is one of the largest that ever occurred here in many years. The buildings on the whole northern side of Addle street are gutted. Ryland's warehouse is destroyed. The outside wall of Foster, Porter & Co.'s building has just fallen, setting fire to houses on the opposite side of Wood street. The flames are steadily marching on. It is stated that Foster, Porter & Co., and Peter Ryland are fully insured. The loss must be immense.

Severe Snow Storm

LONDON, December 7.—Telegrams from various parts of the United Kingdom report a snow storm of unusual severity. Railway traffic in many districts is almost if not wholly suspended. A train was snowed up all last night at Cheshire. Passengers suffered acutely. Telegraphic communication between Glasgow and London is broken. Elsewhere messages are greatly delayed. Many wrecks have occurred on the coast at Oldham and neighboring parts of Lancashire. The storm has not been equalled in thirty years. Losses are heavy in many places.

Eastern Affairs.

CAIRO, December 7. Mohammed Semi, Abdelia Pasha, Ali Feching and Toulba Pasha were arraigned this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of rebellion. They will be sentenced this afternoon.

The prisoners were sentenced to death, but the sentence was commuted to exile for life by the khedive. It is rumored a European mob in Alexandria will attempt to lynch the prisoners.

Zinc Combination.

ST. LOUIS, December 7. The Age of Steel has information and makes the announcement that a strong combination is being formed to purchase and operate zinc works at St. Louis and other points in the west. Parties interested are negotiating with some local establishments with a view to purchasing plants, and also have options on others outside the city. It is not yet public who all the parties in the combination are, but among them are several large manufacturing concerns of St. Louis, Cincinnati, Cleveland and other points east.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Court House hall was crowded to its fullest capacity last evening, it being the occasion of the entertainment under the auspices of the Sunday School of the Congregational church. The entertainment opened with a chorus in which about thirty little boys and girls, aged between six and eight years, took part. They were all dressed in bobolink costumes and the singing was remarkably good for children of that age.

Professor Knoblock followed with a cornet solo, rendered in his usual excellent manner, which was enthusiastically received.

Tableaus were interspersed between each musical number on the programme, some of which were very good, especially "Coming to the Parson," a representation of one of Rogers' pieces of statuary, and "Little Nell and her Grandfather."

Mr. G. E. White then gave a violin solo accompanied on the piano by Frau Held, which was loudly encored.

A very pleasing solo by Miss Nora Fowler followed after which came the broom drill, the novel and most interesting feature of the programme. This was participated in by twelve young ladies all of whom manifested not a little familiarity with the military drill.

After the conclusion of the programme oysters were served by the ladies and it took until nearly midnight to provide the many who remained to partake of them.

DIME CONCERT.

Another of those popular dime concerts was given by the Sunday school of the Methodist Episcopal church in the church last evening. The attendance there was also very good and the programme as given was exceedingly interesting. It was as follows:

1. Song by the school.
2. Prayer by the pastor.
3. Song by the school.
4. Recitation, "They didn't think." ... Master Jimmie Garrett
5. Orchestra, "Cecilia" ... Caure
6. Recitation, "Perseverance" ... Willie Sweet
7. Quartet ... M. E. Choir
8. Dialogue, "The debtor and the dun" ... Charley Hull and Harry Coulson
9. Ladies Quartet ... Mrs. Wannamaker, Miss Andrews, Miss Marston and Mrs. Taylor.
10. "I'll paint you a signboard" ... Master Alexander Baker
11. Solo, with chorus ... Miss Jennie Barber
12. Recitation, "The three lovers" .. Mrs. Brown
13. Solo, "I'm waiting" ... Miss Lizzie Frost, with cornet obligato
14. Character piece, "Sowing Light" ... Nine girls in costume
15. Orchestra, "Far away song" ... A. Neibig
16. Song by the school.

STATE TEACHERS.

Eighth Annual Session of the Association at Pueblo on December 27th, 28th and 29th.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, December 27th, 28th and 29th, the eighth annual session of the Colorado Teachers' Association will meet in the Montgomery opera house at Pueblo. The executive committee, consisting of L. S. Cornell of Denver, Robert Casey of Boulder, and J. W. Barnes of Golden, report that the most satisfactory and complete arrangements have been made for the transportation of visitors, as well as for their accommodation while at Pueblo. All of the railroads in the state have agreed to sell round trip tickets for one and one-fifth fare on the presentation at their ticket offices of a certificate signed by the superintendent of public instruction. At Pueblo arrangements have been made by which teachers will be entertained at the following rates:

Numa's hotel	$2 00 to $2 50 Per day
Victoria hotel	2 00 to 2 50 " "
Arlington hotel	1.50 to 2 00 " "
Mt. Pleasant hotel	1.50 to 2 00 " "
Paris hotel	1 25 to 1.50 " "

It will thus be seen that everything possible has been done to make this year's session of the association a decidedly successful one, and it is predicted that there will be a large attendance from all portions of the state. Below we give the programme which will be carried out during the three days' session.

Destructive Fire at Leadville

LEADVILLE, December 6. One of the most destructive fires that has ever visited Leadville broke out at 6 o'clock this morning in the Texas house on Harrison avenue, the largest gambling establishment in the west, and although the fire department was promptly on hand and had five streams playing on the flames they were unable to check the fiery element, which soon enveloped the entire building. For two hours and a half the battle continued, when by flooding the building from top to bottom the flames were prevented from spreading, and were finally overpowered, not, however, until everything that would burn had been totally destroyed. The building was a two-story frame, owned and occupied by Messrs. Harlan & Chapman, who lose about two hundred on furniture, the building and other fixtures being insured for $7,000. The following merchants, whose places of business adjoin the burned property, estimate their damage (chiefly from water) and losses as follows: F. W. Inbush, tobacco and cigars, about fifteen hundred dollars, insured for three thousand; Samuel Rosenfeldt, cigars, one thousand, no insurance; H. Hauser, furniture, two hundred and fifty, no insurance; David Jacobs, furniture, one hundred and fifty, no insurance; John Sauve, fixtures, five hundred, no insurance. The work of rebuilding will be commenced immediately.

The Tribune has begun a crusade against the Denver city council. We hope it will be a success.

The political record of Mr. Rothacker has been attacked in the Register-Call. The main purpose of it is to show he is not a good republican. Such a charge needs no answer. The Tribune during the late election did more good to the party than any single influence. It had the courage to stand for republicanism as against the evils that threatened to destroy the party. It was not a pleasant task, but it was the best proof of sincere devotion to party.

Mr. Dorsey's counsel asks for a delay of his trial on the grounds of his illness and it was refused yesterday. Though he is well enough to write two column cards he cannot appear at his trial. He did not go on to the stand in the last trial as he might, if he had wished to assert his innocence. The condition of Mr Dorsey is thus given in the New York Herald:

Ex-Senator S. W. Dorsey, who has been suffering from a weakness of the eyes for many months, is now confined to his house, and it is said that it will be months before he will be able to use his eyes. Dr. Marmion, who has been attending Lieutenant Danenhower, is the oculist attending Mr. Dorsey. He has so bandaged both eyes as to completely exclude the light, and says that the bandage must not be removed for eight weeks at least. Besides this, Mr. Dorsey suffers from a nervous affection, making sleep impossible, and he is required to confine himself to low diet, to be strictly temperate, smoking even being forbidden by the doctor. It is not probable he will go to the court house during his trial, having already entered his plea to the indictment. His friends say his condition is very bad, and the complaint may make him blind.

The following from the Philadelphia Press, in regard to Mr. MacVeagh, is very much to the point and draws attention to his tardy vindication by the president: "After more "than a year Mr. George Bliss, on the eve of "new trials, writes to the president: 'It seems "to me important that before that time the at- "mosphere which surrounds the case officially "should be in some measure purified, that "every one may know what I know so thor- "oughly, that the prosecution is in dead earn- "est, from the president down.' This is pre- "cisely what Mr. MacVeagh said a year ago. "This is precisely what he urged as indispen- "sable to success in the prosecution. The "necessity was as palpable then as now. The "official atmosphere surrounding the case was "surcharged with a sentiment that defended "and sustained the thieves. The very news- "papers which trumpeted themselves as the "mouth-pieces of the administration were "every day brutally assailing the prosecutors "and holding up the plunderers as injured in- "nocents. A lightning stroke from the presi- "dent was needed to clear this tainted atmos- "phere; Mr. MacVeagh sought it; he was "unable to secure it; he declined to proceed "without the assurance which he deemed "vital; and a year later, after a long and fu- "tile struggle, his action is vindicated by ex- "actly the same declaration on the part of his "successors. Those who misjudged Mr. Mac- "Veagh at the time must see now that he "understood the elements of the problem bet- "ter than they."

Our congressional minutes showed that Senator Beck introduced very properly a resolution ordering investigation into political assessments during the late campaign. Senator Hale moved an amendment to include an investigation of the democratic committee's methods of raising money from brewers and liquor dealers. This is very contemptible smartness and ought not to have the endorsement of the republican party. The country emphatically showed its disapproval of political assessments in the late election. The resolution was proper and demanded by the election. If Senator Hale had simply wished to insure the investigation of the acts of both parties on this question, it would have been all right. But his purpose was to enlarge the scope so that the original purpose of the resolution could not be carried out. It is the kind of dodging that won't pay. The fact that the democracy raised money from improper sources won't excuse the republican party from robbing poor clerks by intimidation. It can do the party no harm and it should not stay the investigation if it did. The country pretty decidedly expressed its opinion of Hubbell, Robeson, Keifer, and the whole of that crowd. They have been pretty well shown up already and an investigation could hardly develop facts that would lower the estimation in which the public hold them. So far as the party retains such leaders, it will not hurt the party, because such a party won't have the confidence of the country anyhow. But it may do good in making such a polite system of political brigandage odious and frighten any party in the future from using such means. If Senator Hale presses his substitute, his party in the senate should vote it down. The only manly thing to do is to meet the investigation fairly. If the party has done wrong, it cannot be concealed, and it is a far manlier course to admit the wrong than to cowardly attempt to conceal it.

WHO IS GOVERNOR?

DENVER, December 4.

Hon. H. A. W. Tabor, Denver, Colo.

DEAR SIR—I am informed this morning that you have returned to Colorado. Will you please let me know if it is your intention to assume to fill the office of lieutenant governor during Governor Pitkin's absence? I should be glad to be informed as to the matter as soon as practicable, for I do not wish to be drawn into any controversy respecting your title to the office of lieutenant governor. In case you intend to act as governor in the absence of Governor Pitkin, I shall no longer attend to executive business at the state house. Yours respectfully,

HENRY R. WOLCOTT,
President of the Senate.

DENVER, December 4, 1882.

Henry R. Wolcott, late Acting Governor:

DEAR SIR:—Yours of this date is before me, in which you ask "if it is my intention to assume to fill the office of lieutenant-governor during Governor Pitkin's absence." My answer to the same is yes, and with all due respect it seems to me that if you was to ask that question you should have done so many months ere this. Respectfully yours,

H. A. W. TABOR,
Lieutenant Governor.

Many of our readers will remember that Lieutenant-Governor-elect Geo. B. Robinson died in December, 1880, before taking the oath of office. On the afternoon of the day of the inauguration of state officers, in January, 1881, Lieutenant-governor Tabor, whose term of office had expired, took the presiding officer's chair in the senate by virtue of the fact that Robinson was dead. Before this Mr. Tabor had employed counsel to investigate the matter and write an opinion to the effect that he would still be lieutenant governor. This opinion was carefully prepared and given as the lawyer was paid for doing it. It was largely based on some obscure decision in a Florida court. It was not by any means convincing because the precedents in states of far abler courts were passed over. The opinion was printed and passed around among the members on the day that Mr. Tabor by virtue of the death of Mr. Robinson declared himself to the senate as its constitutional presiding officer. The general opinion among lawyers was that the paid opinion was not good law. Anyway the written opinion of a paid attorney is not usually considered as being just, disinterested, and authoritative as the opinion of the supreme court. We have no question about Mr. Tabor's sincerity in believing he acted legally, but his action was as indelicate then as it is now. Had he wished a legal opinion to show his claims to the office were valid, in order to submit it to the state senate, he should have secured one from the attorney general, or from the state supreme court, and not from an adviser hired to give opinions in his interest. Mr. Wolcott did not wish any controversy and made no contest in January, 1881, as he does not now. This is possibly to his credit as a man, but it is unfortunate that such an important constitutional question should not be settled. It is a question whether Mr. Wolcott or Mr. Tabor is governor and the awkwardness of such a question would be at once seen in case of a contest. Mr. Tabor's term of office expired in July, 1881. His successor was duly elected in November, 1880. The constitution very explicitly arranges for the successor of a lieutenant governor who dies before his term of office has expired in the person of the president of the senate. It was undoubtedly the design of the framers of our constitution that in case of vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor, the president of the senate should succeed him. The people elected Mr. Tabor to an office, the term of which expired in January, 1881. He still holds that office by virtue of the opinion of his own attorney without the authority of any state legal authority. This is both indelicate and an extreme assumption of authority. We do not expect that Mr. Tabor will hire another attorney to write an opinion to the effect that he shall remain lieutenant governor for two years longer, but if he did so it would hardly be a more remarkable act than his assumption of the president's chair in the senate at the last session.

PERSONAL.

A. Bronson Alcott is gradually getting better.

The health of Mr. Frederick Douglass does not greatly improve.

A Philadelphia preacher told the women of his congregation that Divine truth could not find its way into hearts that were cramped by corsets.

W. D. Howells is still in Switzerland. He protests that he was misunderstood about Dickens and Thackeray. He means to write a full essay on them.

The Second Universalist church, Jersey City, has been closed in consequence of the illness of Rev. Mrs. Phoebe Hannford, who is troubled with blood poisoning.

The Vicksburg, Miss., Herald reports that there is a lack of harmony between the president and some members of the faculty of the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Miss Susan B. Anthony has returned east from her lecture tour in the west, and, after taking a few weeks' rest at her home in Rochester, will go to Washington for the winter.

Since the death of Thurlow Weed, Chauncey Morse, of Canandaigua, is said to the senior printer in New York state. Born in 1794, he became in 1811 an apprentice in the office of the Ontario Repository, at Canandaigua.

The Rutland, Vt., Herald says that when Senator Edmunds was put forward in 1880 for the nomination for the presidency he warned his friends frankly that they would have only their labor for their pains. Said he: "None of us will live to see a presidential candidate taken from any state east of the Hudson."

Spurgeon is sometimes more blunt than polite. For instance, in his recent answer to a neighbor who asked him to support a certain candidate for election to the school board on the ground of his belonging to the Blue Ribbon army, he replied, "Do you think I am going to support a donkey just because he has a bit of blue ribbon tied to him?"

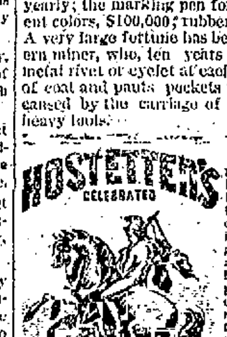
Van der Weyde, the court photographer in England, is an American, who gained the rank of colonel in the Army of the Potomac. He went to London in 1865, saw the necessity of having an artificial light for photographing in the London fogs, invented one and now has the first place in England in his profession, and is patronized by the queen.

Mr. Stanley's Discoveries.

A correspondent of the London Globe who has interviewed Mr. H. M. Stanley, says that gentleman has had practically unlimited means at his command, through the generosity of the king of the Belgians, who, moreover, has been the main supporter of several of the so-called International African expeditions; as Mr. Stanley puts it, he has been in a position to pay for every cubic inch of air he and his men breathed, and every square foot of ground they trod upon. The object of the king of the Belgians appears to have been entirely disinterested—simply to do what he could to render accessible to commerce and civilization, and thereby develop the resources of the interior of Africa. For this purpose the Congo formed a splendid channel of communication, only unfortunately its lower course for many miles is obstructed by impassable cataracts. To surmount this obstruction has been the object of Mr. Stanley's work. He states that already he has carried a well made road; 15 feet wide on an average, from below the cataracts, 230 miles along the north bank of the river, far beyond Stanley Pool, and therefore well into the navigable upper waters. To assist him in this undertaking he has not only had native workers, but relays of young Europeans as superintendents; and for this work he finds Englishmen better than any others, and would be glad to have a fresh supply to send out. So substantially has this road been constructed, that it has stood the deluges of rain that break down upon it from the mountain sides, and has borne the heavy traffic which the transport of engineering plant to the upper reaches has rendered necessary. Causeways have been laid where necessary and bridges built, and the road has, by means of excavations, embankments of stone, and layers of earth, been carried right round the face of a mountain which comes sheer down to the river at one place. On rounding the mountain, Mr. Stanley states that the road enters an avenue of exquisite beauty and coolness which has been cleared through the forest. So thickly timbered is the country in some parts that thousands of trees have had to be felled, and their roots either grubbed up or leveled. At intervals along the road, stations have been planted, and already there is a regular service of couriers between the stations, and by them a growing trade is being established. As to what are the possibilities of commerce along this route, he states that during the progress of his work a million yards of Manchester goods have been distributed through the country in payment for labor and other services performed by the natives. One of the articles of transport along the new road was a fine steam launch, with which Mr. Stanley has done some good exploring work some 400 miles above Stanley Pool, quite 700 miles above the mouth of the river. When he feels at liberty to publish an account of his work (at present his first duty is to his employer, the king of the Belgians), it will be shown, the correspondent believes, that some first rate exploring work has been done. The launch, for example, was taken up a new river, opening from the south bank of the Congo, some distance above Stanley Pool, and which it was found, led into a fine lake. The lake was covered with fishermen's canoes, whose occupants looked aghast at the snorting monster puffing out smoke, and fled in dismay. One, however, was caught, and after being soothed down and kindly treated, was sent off loaded with presents to his wondering fellows peering from among the bushes on the shore. In Mr. Stanley's opinion, the soil is capable of unlimited development for crops of all kinds, and, by judicious use, the supply of caoutchouc in the forests is inexhaustible. The greatest difficulty to the utilization of the river throughout its navigable length is the almost untamable cannibal tribes who inhabit the upper reaches between Stanley's furthest point and the neighborhood of Nyangine.

Curious Patents.

Some investigating person has furnished the New York Times with a brief list of patents on small things which in many instances have proved great mines of wealth to the lucky discoverer. The list might be extended to a much larger number but we only state those given in the Times. Among these trifles is the favorite toy—the "return ball"—a wooden ball with an elastic string attached, selling for ten cents each, but yielding to its patentee an income equal to $50,000 a year. The rubber tip on the end of lead pencils affords the owner of the royalty an independent fortune. The inventor of the gummed newspaper wrapper is also a rich man. The gimlet pointed screw has evolved more wealth than most silver mines, and the man who first thought of putting copper tips to children's shoes is as well off as if his father had left him $2,000,000 in United States bonds. Although roller skates are not so much used in countries where ice is abundant, in South America, especially in Brazil, they are very highly esteemed, and have yielded over $1,000,000 to their inventor. But he had to spend fully $125,000 in England alone fighting infringements. The "dancing Jim Crow," a toy, provides an annual income of $75,000 to its inventor, and the common needle threader is worth $10,000 a year to the man who thought of it. The "drive well" was an idea of Colonel Green, whose troops, during the war, were in want of water. He conceived the notion of driving a two-inch tube into the ground until water was reached and then attaching a pump. This simple contrivance was patented after the war, and the tens of thousands of farmers who have adopted it have been obliged to pay him a royalty, a moderate estimate of which is placed at $3,000,000. The spring window shade yields an income of $100,000 a year; the stylographic pen also brings $100,000 yearly; the marking pen for shading in different colors, $100,000; rubber stamps the same. A very large fortune has been made by a western miner, who, ten years since, invented a metal rivet or eyelet at each end of the mouth of coat and pants pockets to resist the strain caused by the carriage of pieces of ore and heavy tools.



Old fashionable remedies are rapidly giving ground before the advance of this conquering specific, and old fashioned ideas in regard to depletion as a means of cure, have been quite exploded by the success of the great renovant which tones the system, tranquilizes the nerves, neutralizes malaria, depurates and enriches the blood, rouses the liver when dormant and promotes a regular habit of body. New Railroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 7.—A San Diego dispatch says: Ground was broken on the Baja California and Sonora railroad to-day in Tea Juano valley, on the Mexican side of the line. The contract for the first section of twenty miles has been let and grading will be rapidly pushed. The road runs through Lower California, crossing the Colorado near its mouth, thence through Sonora to Calabasas in Arizona. It is understood that the capital for its construction has been raised in England and that the enterprise is in the hands of large holders of Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe.

The Markets.

KANSAS CITY, December 7.—The Live Indicator reports cattle receipts 153, offerings hardly sufficient to test the strength of market but the feeling was strong. Sheep receipts 348, steady, natives averaging 70 pounds sold at 3.25.

CHICAGO, December 7.—The Drovers' Journal reports cattle receipts 6,500, shipments 3,500, fair demand, generally steady. Christmas 6.25 and 6.75, good to choice shipping 5.25 to 6, common to fair 4.00. Butchers fairly active, common to fair 2 to 2.75, medium to good 3 and 4, stockers and feeders 2.00 and 4.00. Sheep receipts 3,000, shipments 8,000; weak and dull; common to fair 2.50 and 3.20, medium to good 3.40 to 4, choice to extra 4.10 to 4.50.

NEW YORK, December 7.—Petroleum dull; united 1.10½, crude 7¾ to 8¼, refined 7⅞ and 8.

Money 2 to 6, closing offered 2, prime mercantile paper 6 and 8, sterling exchange steady 4.80, demand 4.84.

Governments unchanged or higher. Railroad bonds irregular; state bonds dull; stocks ruled very dull, generally weak, opened fraction higher, weakened, declined and after a dull day closed at ⅛ to 3 lower than yesterday. Sales, 320,000 shares.

Mining stocks very dull; Robinson sold at 1.30 to 1.25; Chrysolite, 1.05 to 1.10; Con. Virginia, 64 and 62; Horn Silver, 5.75; Bulwer, 1.20 to 1.25; Independence, 67 to 70; and Little Pittsburg, 50. Sales for the day, 65,045 shares.

"The New Colorado"

"Though a wilderness now, in five years it will be the nicest and best part of Colorado to live in, and this is not exaggeration."—[Prof. S. Richardson.

The two prominent and prospective large cities of the "New Colorado," alias the late Ute Reservation, are

DELTA AND GRAND JUNCTION.

These towns have and can have in the future, owing to the topography of the country, no rivals. The two towns are not antagonistic to any extent, being 51 miles apart with little if any agricultural land between, and each having its own tributary region. The first reached in going westward over the D. & R. G. Railway company's trunk line to Utah is

DELTA.

This is at the junction of the Uncompahgre and Gunnison rivers and commands the great valleys of each. It is 87 miles west of Gunnison city and near the geographical center of Gunnison county which comprises a territory nearly twice as large as the state of Massachusetts. It has the best prospects of any town on the late reservation of being made the county seat of a new county which will probably be formed at the coming session of the next legislature. Four railways pass through or center at the town, and this creates an almost inevitable necessity for shops and the end of divisions of some of these lines. It is the only town on the late reservation where a school was maintained during the summer. A square is set apart for school house, another for court house and four lots for each religious denomination. Water flows and trees are set out on each side of Main street.

Grand Junction,

The prospective Pueblo of the Pacific slope, though unlike Pueblo in having a more equable climate and an abundance of pure water, is situated at the junction of the Gunnison with the Grand, the two largest rivers in the state. It commands the trade of the largest valley of cultivable land at the lowest altitude which is to be found in Colorado. It is the midland country between Pueblo and Salt Lake City, and between the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific, a country 550 miles in extent from east to west and still larger from north to south. The town is equidistant between Salt Lake and Pueblo about 310 miles each way. The town is laid off on a liberal scale. Two hundred and fifty lots have been donated to the public, besides a number of squares for parks and central high school. A number of wells and two large ditches furnish water for the town. The present prices of lots on my list will be raised, perhaps doubled, in three or four days.

In both towns parties intending to invest should do so at once and thus secure the advantage of increase in price. The most desirable lots are nearly all gone.

Call at office of George Macklin, over Ainsworth Brown's, N. Tejon st., during office hours, or in morning and evening at solicitor's office D. & R. G. railway.

Lots for sale also in Montrose, Alamosa, Crested Butte, Colorado Springs and Denver.

A Common-sense Remedy.

SALICYLICA.

No More Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

Immediate Relief Warranted.
Permanent Cure Guaranteed.

Five years established and never known to fail in a single case, acute or chronic. Refer to all prominent physicians and druggists for the standing of Salicylica.

SECRET:

SALICYLICA is known as a common-sense remedy, because it strikes directly at the cause of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, while so many so-called specifics and supposed panaceas only treat locally the effects.

It has been conceded by eminent scientists that outward applications, such as rubbing with oils, ointments, liniments, and soothing lotions will not eradicate these diseases which are the result of the poisoning of the blood with Uric Acid.

SALICYLICA works with marvelous effect on this acid and so removes the disorder. It is now exclusively used by all celebrated physicians of America and Europe. Highest Medical Academy of Paris reports 95 per cent. cures in three days.

REMEMBER

that SALICYLICA is a certain cure for RHEUMATISM, GOUT and NEURALGIA. The most intense pains are subdued almost instantly.

Thousands of testimonials sent on application.

Mr. Morris Sommer has gone to Denver to remain over the holidays with friends.

Messrs. J. S. Woods, of Denver, and J. N. Carlile, of Pueblo, were in the city yesterday.

Now is the time to do your holiday advertising, as it is only about two weeks before Christmas.

During the wind storm which prevailed on Thursday morning the solitary tree on Mount Washington was blown down.

Mr. S. B. Westerfield, formerly of this city, now a resident of Salida, is in town visiting old friends and attending to business.

Mrs. Churchill, editress of the Queen Bee, published at Denver, was in Colorado Springs yesterday in the interest of her paper.

The art loan exhibition will remain open but two nights more. Another opportunity to see such rare curiosities may never be had again in Colorado Springs.

Corporal Boynton, of the signal service, stated last night that nothing had been heard as to the result of Sergeant Hall's observations of the transit of Venus, at Pike's Peak station.

There was quite a large sale of seats for Uncle Tom's Cabin at the opera house tomorrow. Two performances will be given, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening.

The organization of the Troubadours has been perfected and an entertainment will probably be given shortly after the holidays, the proceeds to be for the benefit of the First Battalion Cavalry band.

The bishop of the jurisdiction, Rt. Rev. John F. Spalding, D.D., will make a visitation to Grace church this evening, at 7.30 o'clock, at which time a class for confirmation will be presented by the rector.

These cold nights it would be advisable to shut off the water from your stores and residences and thus avoid any damage that might occur from the bursting of pipes. We understand that the pipes burst in quite a number of places on Wednesday night and caused not a little damage to both owners and tenants.

At the Loan Exhibition to-night Prof. Finlayson will sing and give some recitations. Miss Frost will also sing some of her favorite solos. Another feature of the evening will be a military drill by Corporal Gus Frost, the six year old boy who gave the exhibition drill at Court House hall on Thanksgiving night.

Mr. Edward Ferris, of Messrs. Ferris & Jones, has returned from an extended visit at the east where he went more especially to purchase the holiday goods for the firm. A visit to their store will satisfy every one that he improved the time to a good advantage while absent, for they have an assortment hard to equal.

With the exception of the cold snap experienced two or three weeks ago, Wednesday night was the coldest that we have had. At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer in front of A. Sagendorf & Co.'s drug store indicated six degrees below zero. Some say that it was two degrees lower than that during the night.

Considering the other counter attractions, there was a fair attendance of members at the meeting of the Choral Union last night. The early part of the evening was given to the discussion of business matters and it was concluded to give a popular concert during holiday week—for which the union will at once go into active rehearsal.

It is claimed that the Athletic association is without funds with which to go ahead with the work on the proposed skating rink. It will require in the neighborhood of $75 or $100 to fit it up satisfactorily. Cannot some of our enterprising citizens who are interested in outdoor sports extend a little aid toward carrying out the project?

Major Betts, while practicing yesterday for the proposed telegraphic contest between him and Billy Curtiss, the champion operator of the world, broke the key of his instrument. He, however, succeeded in transmitting 78 words in a minute, and is confident he would have made a better record had the instrument not gone back on him. His challenge to Mr. Curtiss has not yet been accepted.

The election of officers of Pike's Peak Lodge, No. 38, I. O. O. F., for the ensuing term, was held last evening and resulted as follows: C. J. Wright, N. G.; H. C. McCreery, V. G.; O. Palmer, R. S.; W. E. McLain, P. S.; H. Clement, treasurer. This lodge is in a very flourishing condition at present. It is the intention of the members to have a public installation of officers on January 4th next, of which due notice will be given hereafter.

Mr. L. C. Davis, the Pike's Peak avenue jeweler, makes his holiday announcement in another column, to which we invite the attention of our readers. We yesterday visited his store and looked over the endless variety of suitable Christmas gifts which he has in stock, and a better assortment we never saw displayed in Colorado Springs. Every taste as well as purse can be satisfied. His show cases are laden with jewelry of every description, from the richest diamond sets to the plainest trinkets; while in the way of bronzes, clocks, silverware and solid silver spoons, napkin rings, forks, etc., he is well supplied. One of the special features of his stock is the large assortment of native jewelry, which is always in big demand during the holidays. As will be seen by his advertisement Mr. Davis suggests an early examination of his goods, which will enable purchasers to secure the choicest selections and escape the crowd during Christmas week. Goods will be reserved for customers and left for future delivery.

Nothing Short of Unmistakable Benefits

Conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which AYER'S SARSAPARILLA enjoys. It is a compound of the best vegetable alteratives, with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron,—all powerful, blood-making, blood-cleansing and life-sustaining—and is the most effectual of all remedies for scrofulous, mercurial, or blood disorders. Uniformly successful and certain, it produces rapid and complete cures of Scrofula, Sores, Boils, Humors, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. By its invigorating effects it always relieves and often cures Liver Complaints, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, and is a potent renewer of waning vitality. For purifying the blood it has no equal. It tones up the system, restores and preserves the health, and imparts vigor and energy. For forty years it has been in extensive use, and is to-day the most available medicine for the suffering sick.

For sale by all druggists.
